

29 November 1950

Dear Art,

Thank you for your letter of 10 November bringing to my attention the qualifications of [redacted] I find, however, that he has already been interviewed in the past on a number of occasions with regard to employment with this Agency. Unfortunately, we do not have a vacancy at this time in which his experience and background can be fully utilized.

STAT

I had an appointment to see Ralph Emmell yesterday, but I had to postpone this until his next visit to Washington which, I understand, will be on December 4th. If you are back from California by then, perhaps you would like to come along with him. In any case, I hope you will come by to see me sometime when you are in the neighborhood.

It was good of you to offer to help out, and I assure you I will keep this in mind. There is a lot to be done here, and it may be that I will have to enlist your support one of these days, at least on a part-time basis.

Sincerely,

s/Bedell
